Safia Barakzai

BVSc DipECVS CertES(Soft Tissue) MRCVS

University of Edinburgh

Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies

Large animal Clinic

Safia Barakzai qualified from Bristol University in 1998 and spent 2 years in mixed practice before moving to the University of Liverpool where she worked as a locum equine radiographer for 6 months. She then moved to the University of Edinburgh, where she did her surgical residency under Professor Paddy Dixon, and in 2003 became a lecturer in Equine Surgery. She is currently a Senior Lecturer at Edinburgh but is spending a year on sabbatical at Murdoch University, Perth, Western Australia. Her clinical and research interests include upper respiratory disorders, equine dentistry and imaging of the equine skull. She has numerous publications on these subjects, and has written 2 textbooks and numerous textbook chapters. She is currently a European Diplomat in Large Animal Surgery and also holds the RCVS Diploma in Equine Soft Tissue Surgery.
